Select Poetry.

SHE ALWAYS MADE HOME HAPPY.

In an old churchyard stood a stone,
Weather marked and stained:
The hand of Time had crumbled it,
So only part remained.
Upon one side I could just trace,
"In memory of our mother;"
An epitaph which spoke of "home,"
Was chiseled on the other.

I'd gazed on monuments of Fame,
High towering to the skies;
I'd seen the sculptured marble stone,
Where a great hero lies;
But by this epitaph I paused,
And read it o'er and o'er,
For I had never seen inscribed
Such words as these before.

"She always made home happy!"
What a noble record left!
A legacy of memory sweet
To those she left, bereft;
And what a testimony given
By those who knew her best,
Engraven on this plain, rude stone
That marked their mother's rest.

It was a humble resting place,
I know that they were poor,
But they had seen their mother sink,
And patiently endure;
They had marked her cheerful spirit,
When bearing, one by one,
Her many burdens up the hill,
'Till all her work was done.

So, when was stilled her weary heart,
Folded her hands so white,
And she was carried from the house
She'd always made so bright,
Her children raised a monument
That money could not buy,
As witness of a noble life
Whose record is on high.

A noble life; but written not
In any book of fame;
Among the list of noted ones
None ever saw her name:
For only her own household knew
The victories she had won
And none but they could testify
How well her work was done.

From the Pittsburg Christian Advocate.

Constitutional Recognition of God.

BY REV. THOS. N. BOYLE.

There is a movement on foot at the present time to procure a change in the Constitution of the United States that will effect a "Constitutional recognition of Almighty God and the Christian religion." We have received, through the mail, a call that has been signed by a few distinguished ministers and laymen, (as well as some who are not distinguished) of different churches, for a convention in furtherance of this object, which is to meet in Pittsburgh on the third Monday of March.

If the prime movers in this effort can give no better reasons for the assemblage than they offer in the call, then we think it will be for those who appreciate the work of our forefathers to hesitate and look at what may be the result before they favor the change that is sought.—The call assumes that there is no recognition of Almighty God in the Constitution, and that it dishonors Him. We regard this assumption as a serious reflection on the undisputed piety of a part, at least, of the framers of that important State paper. It is more. It is a gratuitous assumption which a careful examination of the paper will not justify. It is true that there is no formal sentence setting forth that God is, and that He is the Author of national existence; nevertheless the sentiments that pervade the paper are heaven-born and the aims that are enumerated are of God. This Constitution was framed by the people to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessing of liberty." May we not ask here what better recognition of the claims of God can a nation make than to secure these ends, and transmit them unimpaired to posterity? We may visit some unpretending building and find assembled there a concourse of people. There may be no herald at the door to announce whose house we have entered; there may be no inscriptions on the walls to indicate where we are; but there may be an unseen spirit rising up out of the gusts of praise, the plaintive prayer; and the earnest exposition of the minister that forces upon our mind the fact it is God's house. The name of God may not appear in the Constitution, but the principles that are born of him are found permeating almost every article. We are willing to submit that there should be a fuller national recognition of the claims of Almighty God upon us. But we submit that the best method of recognizing God is to preserve the Constitution true to its broad liberality in all matters of religion, and incorporate more of the justice, and wisdom, and love, of the one true God into our own constitutions and lives. Suppose that the name of God is repeatedly inserted in the Constitution, what will it avail so long as many of our public men rule God out of their hearts?

The call also sets forth that the want of Constitutional recognition has been a matter of deep regret. If this be true, there has been a lack of expression, except so far as one small religious body is concerned. That body has failed hitherto to give any voluntary support to a government that has protected it in all the blessings of liberty, and that has ever secured to its membership the right of worshiping God according to the dictates of its own conscience. It is a religious body that has encouraged and fostered a narrow contracted bigotry that has made its members almost as intolerant as some Roman Catholics. The spirit they have manifested toward other denominations in the past should lead all lovers of liberty to be careful how they follow their dictation.

But this call not only shadows forth a determination to procure a verbal recognition of God, but also to weave into that document the most important point in the orthodox creed, i.e. the divinity of Christ. This they would do in the face of the fact that there are many persons who exercise all the functions of citizens, and who support the Constitution of the United States, and yet we call in question this doctrine. From whence do they derive the right to legislate for or against the religious dogmas of the Church? Certainly not from the Bible, for Jesus has said "My kingdom is not of this world." Certainly not from the Constitution, for it wisely prohibits Congress from making any "law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." We hope that they are not actuated in their efforts by the belief that the religious creed of the majority should be the ruling principle in the Constitution; and yet the call seems to indicate that such is the fact. Speak-of that document they say: "It does not reflect the views of the great majority of people upon these great matters." Have the minority no religious rights that are to be respected? Should this movement be successful, may it not renew the dark days of religious persecution, and cause a new warfare on the right of private judgement in matters of religion? These are questions that ought to be carefully considered by those who favor this movement.

But may not this attempt at religious legislation by a civil body encourage the Roman Catholic organization to demand a recognition of their peculiar dogmas? If we as Protestants incorporate the divinity of Christ into the Constitution, the next thing will be an effort on their part to legislate on the supremacy of the Pope. Hear what the Churchesays: 'Protestantism has not and never can have rights where Catholicism is triumphant.' "Religious liberty is merely captured until the opposite can be carried into execution, without danger to the Catholic world." "Catholicity will one day rule in America, then religious liberty is at an end." "The very name of liberty ought to be banished from the very domain of religion." We know that Protestants do not wish to encourage sentiments like these: and yet we feel that the success of this movement would be entering the wedge into the rock of our liberty, by our own hands, to be driven home at some future time by Catholic blows. If we go to the Bible it will teach us that its grand system of Christianity discards coercive power, and leans upon the gratitude it inspires, the love it enkindles, the hope it awakens, and the congeniality it produces, to win its way and take the strongest morsl hold upon human life.

Less than a century ago this government was born amid the throes of the revolution, and was founded upon religious liberty, by men who had suffered persecution and imprisonment for opinions' sake. In laying its foundations, there was a new era for mankind, because it proclaimed the sublime idea of man's capacity for self government. Up to this hour the human race had struggled through ignorance and blood to give utterance to this grand idea in vain.—The boasted Republics of Greece and Rome never learned the lesson it imparts. In both nations the tens were free, but the thousands were enslaved. Here upon this soil our forefathers have chartered for us a Republic that is now recognizing the inalienable rights of all men to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." They became exiles from their native land, braved the dangers of the trackless ocean, and the more appalling dangers of the Western World for the sake of religious liberty. Could they turn in their graves and speak to their sons, they would charge us not to prove recreant to the trust the preserving to every man the right honestly to worship God according to the dictates, not of Constitution or laws, but of his own conscience. They dedicated this country to the God of all humanity to be kept sacred from religious intolerance and persecution. "ITS THE EARLY BIRD," Etc.

BY A LIE-A-BED.

More than one has shown how hollow
Is this proverb and absurd;
For the worm, it sure must follow,
Got up earlier than the bird.
Doubtless, too, the bird in question,
Eating with too great a zeal,
Suffered much from indigestion,
Owing to his morning meal.
And it would not be surprising
If that birdie fell a prey
To the sportsman—early rising
Makes the aim, so sure they say,
Perhaps its young, too—had it any?—
By their parent left forlorn,
Caught catarrhal ailments many
From the keen cold air of morn.
Other birds—for birds will chatter—
When they saw the bird slight,
Might have chirped with scornful patter,
"Ah! the rake's been out all night!"
Summing up the case concisely,
This decidedly I say;
Early birds don't get on nicely,
Early rising does not pay!

Ethan Allen.

A good story is told of that rare old reprobate, Col. Ethan Allen, whose services to his country, in the times 'that tried men's souls,' were only equaled by his daring assertions of the right of private opinion on theological matters. A well known Divine, the pastor of the village church, called one evening, on the Colonel, and while enjoying his true New England hospitality at the supper table, the conversation turned upon church matters.

Quoth the Minister, "Colonel, how does it happen that a man of your extensive influence and information, has never seen it his duty to join our society. Your example would tend greatly to invigorate our hands, and fortify our hearts against the dire assaults of the evil one."

"Well, brother," replied Allen, "I have often thought as you do about the business, and one day I had almost made up my mind to fall into the ranks, but that night I had a dream which caused me to give it up."

"Ah!" exclaimed the minister, "what did you dream."

"Well, I though I was standing at the entrance of Paradise, and saw a man go up and knock."

"Who's that?" asked a voice from within.

"A friend wishing admittance," was the reply.

The door was opened and the peeper stepped out.

"Well, sir, what denomination did you belong to down yonder?"

"I am an Episcopalian,' replied the candidate for admission.

"Go in then, and take a seat near the door."

"Just then another stepped up who was a Presbyterian, and the guardian directed him to take a seat. A large number were admitted and received directions where to seat themselves. I then stepped up to the entrance.

"Well, sir, what are you?" asked the guardian.

"I am neither High Churchman, Presbyterian, Catholic or Jew, but I am that some old Ethan Allen that you probably have heard of from down below.

"What! the man that took Ticonderoga?"

"The same," I replied.

"All right, Ethan," said he, "just step in and sit down wherever you please."

AN anecdote is told of a distinguished bald-headed man who was not very quick at repartee. A lady who was joking him about the white bare spot so much like the Arctic regions, on his poll, suggested that he should be sure and attend the bal d'opera which was soon to come off, and made other remarks quite as unpleasant to a sensitive man. With a sigh, and looking directly at her, he said: "My dear lady, it is much better to be bare than empty." "Oh, yes," she quickly responded, "you are correct but how uncomfortable to be both!"

An Economical Stockholder.

A good story is told of a gay and festive railroad stockholder, who visited Portland, Maine, from "away down East," on the occasion of an annual meeting and a fine dinner at the Kearsarge. He must have been one of those conscientious men who insisted on good dividends. He didn't dine at the Kearsarge, because he hadn't got his gold "divvy." So, with all the importance becoming his position, he took a dignified stroll into an oyster saloon.

"Say, mister, what do you ask for an oyster?"

"One cent apiece," was the reply.

"I guess as how I'll have one," said the stockholder.

The bivalve was duly opened upon a plate, and he was invited to "pitch in."

"Say, mister, is this all there is for a cent?"

"Yes."

"Can't you afford to give us another? How d'ye take?"

"Well, some swallow it whole, and some eat it up into hash. A good many ways. You pay your money and take your choice."

"It won't hurt a fellow, will it though?"

"Oh, no."

So stockholder "went for it," and in about two minutes the good thing was out of sight, with four large soda crackers to keep it company. "Nobody hurt."

"Say, mister, don't care if I do have another oyster. Do you take less where a fellow eats to?"

"No."

"Well, don't mind. I'll have another."

Oyster No. 2 was disposed of, and with it eight of the aforesaid crackers. Stockholder shelled out the two cents, and was about to depart, feeling greatly refreshed, when he was advised to keep his money, as he might need it to get home with, and he was welcome to the oysters. He took the two cents, the most thankful creature ever seen in those parts, and departed. It is not reported whether he arrived safely at home, nor whether he got the gold dividends. But he's one of 'em.

A PROMISING young shaver of five or six years was reading his lesson at school one day, in the deliberate manner for which urchins of that age are somewhat remarkable. As he proceeded with his task he came upon the passage, "Keep thy tongue from evil and thy lips from guile." Master Hopeful drawled out, "Keep—thy—tongue—from—evil—and—thy—lips—from—girls."

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN.

W. W. BROWN, A. B. HUTCHISON, } EDITORS.

Terms $2 Per Annum in Advance.

BELLEFONTE, PA.,

Wednesday Morning, Mar. 23, 1870.

ADVERTISING.—The Bellefonte Republican has now a Circulation as Large, if not Larger, than the Democratic Watchman, and fully 600 more than any other Republican paper published in the County. Our Merchants and Business Men will please make a note of this.

BARCAINS! BARGAINS!!

The Bellefonte "Republican" and the "American Agriculturist."

We are now prepared to offer to the people of Centre county, a Great Bargain for the coming year. It is this: To every subscriber who will send us $3.00, in advance, we will send the

and the

"AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST,"

for one year. Of the REPUBLICAN we need not speak at present.

The American Agriculturist is a work that no farmer, nor house-keeper should be without. As a farm-journal we think it has no superior in the world—certainly none in the United States. It is issued monthly, and the subscription price is $1.50 per annum. By clubing with the REPUBLICAN you save fifty cents, and secure more good reading matter than you can obtain in any other way for the same money.

We hope the reading public will avail themselves of this very liberal offer.

MONEY! MONEY!!

Reader, what do you think of this type? It is pretty, is it not? Now if you have paid your subscription to the REPUBLICAN you need not read any further. What follows is not intended for you. But to those who have not paid, we have a word to say. We want MONEY! MONEY!! Who will be the first to respond? We urge upon all delinquent subscribers, the necessity of sending in the price of subscription as speedily as possible. We need our money or we would not dun you for it. Put yourselves to a little trouble, friends if need be, and pay up without delay. Our terms, remember, are cash in advance. And if we are kind enough to trust you awhile you should not make the time too long. Let us hear from you one and all.

REMOVED.

We have removed the office of the REPUBLICAN, from Bishop St., to the Humes Building, on Allegheny St., three doors South of the First National Bank. We are therefore no longer the "Organ on Bishop St." but the "Peoples organ" fearless and free on Allegheny St. Call in friends one and all. Our latch string is always out.

James W. Mason, a colored citizen of Arkansas, has been nominated as Minister resident and Consul General at Liberia, upon the recommendation of U. S. Senator Alexander McDonell of that state, but formerly a merchant of Lock Haven, Clinton county, Pa.

The "Local Optional License Law" has passed the House at Harrisburg. It is quite ambiguous. It provides for submitting the question of license or no license to "any district" but defines a district to be either a city, borough or township. If it becomes a law, it will, no doubt, be decided unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

JACOB G. MOYER, formerly "Singing Master" of Aaronsburg, but now pretending to represent this county in the legislature at Harrisburg has not, as yet, done anything in regard to the numerous petitions sent him by the Mechanic's of this county praying for the passage of a Mechanic's Lien law. Perhaps his time is too much occupied in making sale of his flour to pay any attention to the prayers of his hard working constituents.

THAT PHAMPHLET.

What has become of that pamphlet, which was to contain the proceedings of the County Institute? We put in a bid for the printing of that pamphlet, which said bid was lower by at least 20 per cent. than the bid of either of the Water Wind mills, and moreover we agreed to perform our contract by the first of February last. We were informed, that unless we "went to work on it right away, quick now" we could not do it at all,

It is now past the middle of March and no pamphlet—no proceedings of the Institute yet. This is a clear case of National enterprise. When will the pamphlet make its appearance?—The teachers want to know. We venture the prediction, that it will be a flimsy job when it does come. Such enterprise, and men who value their word so cheaply, do not generally, show much skill.

Had you kept your contract with us, you would have had your pamphlet six weeks ago. As it is we sympathise with you. We sympathise deeply and sincerely with you and are only sorry that it is not in our power to give you either energy or brains. Perhaps the new manager will give some life and vigor to the sickly concern. If not your case is hopeless. melan-coal-y indeed, your purse as Short as ours, and standing, as the Irishman would say, on a ridge of rocks praying for less Gold and more greenbacks; for more brains and less Brained.

For good, fancy, cheap and expeditious printing or job work, we invite the people of Centre county to call at the Republican Job office, three doors South of the 1st National Bank.

Hon. Jacob G. Meyer---What the Pennsvalley People lost by Electing Him.

Friends of the L. C. & S. C. Railroad, Contemplate your Loss—$500,000—Shall Hon. Jacob G. Meyer be Re-elected?—Friends of the Railroad, Arouse!

In the last number of the REPUBLICAN, we inserted a communication written by a "Disgusted Democrat." We need not here repeat the contents of that communication. Suffice it to say, that the Watchman lost its temper over it, and wrote bitter things against all Democrats "disgusted" at the workings of the Court House Ring and its aiders and abettors throughout the county. The article referred to, is, however, about the first article we have noticed in the Watchman in defence of Mr. Meyer.

Does Mr. Meek indorse Mr. Meyer's course in the Legislature? Will he dare say that he has made an able member, and legislated in the interests of his constituents? Will he have the hardihood to say that Jacob G. Meyer has done anything for the Railroad through Pennsvalley? When, oh, when! we ask, will the honest Democrats of that rich, fertile and lovely valley, open their eyes to receive the light, or their hearts to the honest convictions of duty?

The people of Centre county have been, for years past, agitating the building of a Railroad through Pennsvalley, and in order to secure the advantages of such an important thoroughfare, have, on several occasions, subscribed very liberally towards its completion. Twice have they paid a portion of their subscriptions for the purpose of paying the Engineers for their labor in making the survey. For this act they deserve the highest commendations of all parties.

The importance of a Railroad as a connecting link between the two great thoroughfares, the Penn'a R. R., and the P. & E. R. R., cannot be over-estimated, as it would enable the farmers—the producers—to ship their produce of all kinds to any section of the country where they could realize the highest and best market price. Another great advantage, as every one must see, who is not willfully blind, would be the enhancement of real estate along the whole rout and throughout the entire valley through which it would pass

Public roads, but more especially Railroads, are a great benefit to the State, inasmuch as they increase the revenue in the Treasury, as well as being great civilizers in times of peace and afford means of protection, transportation and safety in times of war. For these reasons, it is very important that the State should aid in their completion. For these reasons our noble old Commonwealth has granted the people in many of her counties and upon numerous occasions, substantial aid in their public Enterprises. But when has she done anything for any public enterprise in our noble old county? She has aided her citizens in other counties who were more able to help themselves than are the people of Centre county or the people along the rout of the proposed L. C. & S. C. R. R.

To obtain this aid from the State it is important that we send active, energetic men to represent us in the Legislature. Men who, when elected are always at their post, always on the alert; always in their seats during the session. Ready at all times to secure any advantages that may offer for the welfare of their constituents. Have the people of Centre county always done this? We answer emphatically, no! We have sometimes sent very poor material, and last fall to our sorrow, shame and pecuniary loss, some of us, we mean the whole people, preferred Hon. Jacob G. Meyer to that sharp business manager and first class financier Jas., P. Coburn Esq. The folly of our choice and the imbicility of our present member, will be more apparent when you read the following facts.

A numbers of years ago an act of the Legislature was passed authorizing the sale of the public works. The public works as our readers all know were sold, under this act to the P. R. R. Co., the Commonwealth taking the Bonds of the Company to the amount of some six million of dollars, that being the price for which the public works were sold.

These Bonds were to be deposited with the State Treasurer, the interest of which was to be appropriated to the payment of the State debt—the legacy left us by the Democratic party.

Now for the gist of the whole matter. We pity Mr. Meyer, for he is not to blame for the want of brains, or foresight. If Providence has withheld these gifts from our Representative, we should not repine: but we should blame ourselves for suffering such men to be elected to represent us. The Republicans are not entirely free from blame in this matter, for if we had worked more harmoniously and a little more energetically we might have defeated Mr Meyer, and elected Jas. P. Coburn.

A few days ago an act was passed by the Legislature appropriating those Bonds to the building of a Rail Road from Jersey Shore, through the Northern part of the State to Buffalo N. Y. We believe the Governor has not yet signed the Bill. So soon as he does so it will become a law.

Where was our member—Hon. J. G. Meyer, when this Bill was agitated, voted upon and finally passed by the House? We are credibly informed he has not been in his seat since this act was introduced. And had he been there as it was his bounden duty, to be, instead of away selling flour or eating a "piece," perhaps, he could have secured, by a little energy and brains, at least five hundred thousand dollars of that money to be appropriated to the building of our Pennsvalley Rail Road. or more correctly speaking the L. C. & S. C. R. R.

Honest Democratic farmers of Centre county, what did we tell you last fall? Did we not predict that J. G. Meyer would prove a failure—that he would fail to aid you in the building of your road? Do you not believe, do you not know, (be honest now) that if you would have had James P. Coburn in the Legislature instead of our present member, these $500,000 would now be yours, and your railroad a grand success? In proof of the truth of our predictions, we have the testimony of Hon. Mr. Olmstead, an able member of the House who told one of our best citizens that if Centre county had sent a representative with any brains at all, or one having any idea of legislation, we could have secured at least five hundred thousand dollars to the building of our Pennsvalley Railroad.

We are also informed that W. A. Wallace when importuned by a Democratic friend of his, from this county, to use his ability and influence towards securing a portion of the above appropriation for our road, declined to do so, giving as a reason that he had his own ideas about the matter. Democrats of Pennsvalley, see how you have been cheated and betrayed in the house of your friends.

We sincerely hope Gov. Geary will veto the bill, if for no other reason than to give our Pennsvalley Democratic friends, as well as the whole people, another chance for our share of the money next winter, when we shall have James P. Coburn, or some other good and sharp man, and true friend of the L. C. & S. C. R. R. in the Legislature. We also hope our Pennsvalley Democrats will remember Billy Wallace when he comes up for Governor. And if we were a Democrat, but we thank God we are not, we would suggest the propriety of holding indignation meetings in Pennsvalley, censuring Mr. Meyer and insisting upon his resignation.

Invention.

Last week a series of very interesting experiments took place at the Hope Rolling Mill in this city, for the conversion of the ordinary pig iron into steel, under a process invented by Dr. Wm. Fields, of Washington, Del. The invention is chemical in its nature, and is applied in the boiling furnace. In presence of a committee of iron men from Providence, R. I., who came here expressly to see the invention tested, 300 pounds of common pig iron were converted into excellent steel in one hour and twenty minutes, and this under many disadvantages as to the appliances at hand. The steel turned out proved of most excellent quality, and part thereof was at once manufactured into chisels with which other steel bars were cut in twain. Other tools were made, such as drills, &c., which were tested with great satisfaction. A razor was also made out of a sample, which gave evidence that it was well adapted for cutlery purposes. An effort at turning a lump of the steel into a railway rail proved unsuccessful, probably because the rolls were not adapted to the purpose. The experiment at rail making is however, to be repeated this week. the inventor feeling confident that the object can be accomplished. Under this method steel could be sold as low as 4½ cents per pound, or nearly as low as wrought iron. We look upon the invention as one of the most important yet attained in the iron progressions of this county, and we believe it will go abroad as such "from the rivers to ends of the earth," and that the present "age of Iron," as Americans fondly term it, will give way almost entirely to the incoming age of steel.—Allentown Democrat.

STILL alive "the oldest inhabitant," of whom we have so often heard. He is now living in North Carolina, aged 142 years, and was with Gen. Washington at "Braddock's defeat." Where will he turn up next time?

—Senator Revels, the colored sucessor of Jefferson Davis, of Mississipi delivered an eloquent speech on the Georgia reconstruction question in the Senate chamber on the 16th inst.. It was the first speech ever delivered in the American Congress by a colored man.

A GERMAN Savant announces that the "Milky Way" in the heavens will shortly consolidate and form a moon. That will be the first instance of heavenly churning on record, and if our present moon is made of green cheese, why should we not have one of butter?

—A school mistress at Arcola, Indiana, was kicked by a male villain because she had chastised his son. She is in a percarious situation, and the man would be too, if there were any men in that town who know how to handle a rope. When it comes to kicking school marms we are a woman's right lunatic immediately, and want revenge.

IN charging a Grand Jury in Albany County, Wyoming Territory, the said jury being composed in part of women, the Judge said:

"It would be the most shameful scandal that in our temples of Justice and to our courts of law, anything should be permitted which the most sensitive lady might not hear with propriety and witness."

—Mr. Lipscomb, who resides near Sherman, Texas recently killed a monster wolf in his door yard, weighing fifty three pounds, and measuring five feet from the tip of the nose to the insertion of the tail. The hungry animal had followed some goats into the yard in the hope doubtless of getting a meal, but instead got a bullet.

A pleasant country that, surely. If there had been no goats in that yard, perhaps his worship would not have objected to dining off a young Texan.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative PILL. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends; and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of the most remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to restore the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

THE FEAST OF PURIM.—The feast of Purim came this year on the 17th inst., and was generally observed in this place, by our Jewish citizens. The Jews all over the world observed the 17th inst., as a day of feasting and rejoicing.

THE MILESBURG STRING BAND.—In our notice of Mrs. Dunham's concert last week we forgot to mention the Milesburg String Band that added so much to the enjoymant of the occasion. It was generally remarked by those present, that for correctness of execution and sweetness of tone, the music furnished by that Band at the concert surpassed anything of the kind they ever had the pleasure of listening too, and when we say it is one of the best String Band's in the state, we are only re iterating a universally conceded fact. May every one of them live long and furnish the public with many more sweet concord of sounds.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY "IN THE MORNING."—The labors of Erin's illustrious Apostle are as interesting to the Protestant as to the Catholic. In history St Patrick will always hold a distinguished place as a great civilizer and benefactor of mankind. He was born at Bonaven, Scotland, in 372. His paternal name was Succath, and was a son of a poor man who was an assistant at the village church. At the age of 16 years he was captured by pirates and taken to the Northern Coast of Hibernia and sold to an Irish Prince who set him to keep his herds. It was while attending his masters herds that his sins began to trouble his conscience, and it is said that he offered up a hundred prayers a day and as many by night. One day seeing a ship on the coast he took passage in it for home without the knowledge or consent of his master. Ten years later he was again captured by pirates, but soon regained his freedom. In his fifty fifth year he started on his travels as a volunteer missionary to those people who had twice captured him.

By the use of a rude drum he assembled the people together in the open fields and proclaimed to them the word of the Cross. His labors were intensely earnest, and his labors were crowned with success by his conversion of the whole island to christianity. He founded Monasteries and established Seminaries for the future teachers of the people. He was the inventor of the Irish Alphabet and did many other beneficial acts for the Irish people whom he so ardently loved. He lived to be one hundred and twenty years old, and his memory still lives and will continue to be venerated by all christian peoples.

Last Thursday was the 1498 anniversary of his birth day, and was duly celebrated in this place by the order of St Patrick's Sons of Temperance who paraded the streets in full regalia preceded by a band of music. In the evening the order in a body, with many of our citizens, marched to the Court House and listened to an eloquent lecture on temperance delivered by Rev. Father Brown, of Loretta. We venture the assertion that no fitter celebration of the natal day of Ireland's Patron Saint took place in any other locality, than the one observed here on last Thursday, and we hope the members of the order of St. Patrick's Sons of Temperance may live to enjoy many more celebrations of the kind. While on this subject we might mention that while the procession carried the green flag of Erin, we did not see it intertwined with, or accompanied by, the Star Spangled Banner, whose ample folds give perfect protection to the enjoyment of civil and religious liberty, both to the native and adopted citizens of this great country.

This omission we presume was an oversight as it was not so at their celebration last year.

Tribute of Respect.

To the Worshipful Master, Officers and Brethren of Bellefonte Lodge No. 268, A. Y. M.:

Your committee appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of this Lodge with respect to the death of Bro. Turner, beg leave to report the following:—

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Divine Master, by a dispensation of his providence, to remove from the fullness of life to the fruition of eternity, our late brother James D. Turner, thus sadly and impressively reminding us that "In the midst of life we are in death;" and as honorable tributes of respect to the dead are deemed the surest evidence of the regard with which their memory will be cherished by the living, we desire to place on record a faithful expression of our sense of the loss sustained by our order in our brother's demise, and also, to express our sympathy with the feelings of his bereaved relatives and numerous friends and acquaintances. Therefore,

Resolved, That in this solemn visitation the community has lost a valued citizen, his wife and children a loving husband and kind parent, and our fraternity a worthy and devoted brother, whose recollection we will fondly cherish as an evergreen in our memories.

Resolved, That we tender to the relatives of our late brother assurances of our earnest sympathy with them in their bereavement, knowing that the strength to bear their affliction must come from Him who sent it; and though they drink deeply of that cup whose sorrows no earthly solace can render less bitter, their lasting comfort must come from resignation to the will of that merciful Father who is too wise to err, and too good to be unkind.

Resolved, That as a token of regard for our lamented brother the charter and working tools of the Lodge be draped in mourning for a period of three months

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to finish a copy of this preamble and resolutions, with the seal of the Lodge attached, to the family of the deceased, and also to furnish copies for publication to the newspapers of the town.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. M. BLANCHARD, } Committee.

PRICE OF COAL, &C.—From the Times and Register of last week, published at Mauch Chunk, Pa., by W. P. Furey, formerly of the Clinton Democrat, we learn that the price of Anthracite coal at that place, now ranges from $2 50 to $3,25 per ton, and that the total production of coal, in the Anthracite region for the week was 149,902 tons and for the fiscal year 2,293,705 tons against 1,915,261 tons to the same dates last year.

RENTING OF PEWS.—A meeting of the Methodist congregation of this place will be held in their Church on Saturday evening next, the 26th inst., for the purpose of renting the Pews.

REVIVAL.—The revival at Curtin's Iron Works still continues and many have been converted, and many more are inquiring "What shall they do to be saved."

SCHOOLS.

Since my last the public school of this place have been closing. On Friday March 4, the primary school taught by Miss Shultz, closed; on the following Tuesday, the 3d grade taught by Miss McCoy, closed; on the next Thursday, the 2d grade taught by Prof. Shultz, closed. Owing to the first two being Primary Schools they closed quite unceremoniously; but the last two closed with grand literary treats, which were listened to by large and appreciative audiences. Of the exhibition of talent made by these grades we desire to make a few remarks. The entertainment consisted of declamations, dialogues, charades and select reading by the Prof. himself. In all probability there never was a greater effusion of grandiloquence in that room and we doubt whether there will soon be again. The entertainment given by the students of the high school was quite interesting and highly instructive. They all acquitted themselves in a manner that showed culture, refinement and elegance. In our humble opinion we class exhibitions among the doubtful incentives to study and think there are purer and more appropriate incentives that should be made use of in luring the minds of the pupils above the mere showy and dressy fashions of the present day.

JOURNAL.

Perhaps it is not generally known through Centre Co., that we have a live weekly paper printed here. This paper was established in the fall of 1868, the first number appearing Oct. 17. The first number had a circulation of 300 which has since augmented to 500. It is a seven column paper and since its advent has appeared in two suits. The subscription is $2,00 per annum. Mr. E. H. Ellsworth is the editor. Of course the paper has to be neutral in politics to be popular but the editor is a republican. He is a young man and deserves praise for his industry and perseverance. I omitted stating that they have as much job work as it is possible for them to put off. I can recommend this paper to readers of good interesting papers. As an advertising medium it stands unrivaled among our county papers.

SNOW.

We have had a terrible snow during this week which was accompanied by a severe gale. The snow fell to the depth of 15 inches and the wind drifted it wonderfully making it quite disagreeable to pedestrians.

SECESSION.

Your readers may be startled at the above word, more especially because it applies to this loyal place. We have no intention to secede from the U. S. or State of Pennsylvania, but from Centre county. I understand there is now a project on foot to unite with Clearfield county. This section of Centre derives very little benefit from her, nearly all the trade being with sister Clearfield. It is inconvenient for any one to get to Bellefonte from here, which they must occasionally do to attend Court and other county business.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

On Thursday evening, the 17th, twenty-five persons were confirmed as members. Bishop Stevens officiating. On the following morning the church erected by the congregation, was consecrated to the services of God. This church is in a flourishing condition at present having quite a large number of members.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

This institution is still alive and flourishing. It has quite a large list of active members. Influential and popular men are being elected Honorary members. Spirited discussions takes place there and as a general thing are quite instructive. Essays are read occasionally and sometimes a declamation is delivered. Every month there is a paper read edited by the society.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

Experiments in Agriculture.

Extract from the Report of the Professor of Pennsylvania Agricultural College.

FERTILIZERS.

A few interesting experiments were made upon the Central farm with fertilizers upon corn, barley, clover and timothy, the results of which are worthy of special notice. Ter Hoeven horn dust applied to corn in plot 27, at the rate 500 pounds—twenty dollars worth—per acre, produced no sensible effect in raising the product over that of the adjoining plot No 28; whilst Miller & Smith's super phosphate of lime, applied at the rate of $14 per acre, increased the product of plot No. 39 twenty two bushels over the product of plot No. 28, and sixteen bushels over the product of plot No. 30, to which barn yard manure had been applied immediately before planting, at the rate of 16 two horse loads per acre.

On barley, in plot No. 127, Ter Hoeven horn dust, applied at the same rate, increased the product over that of No. 128, on which there was no manure, 4½ bushels, and equaled within a fraction of a bushel Miller & Smith's super phosphate of lime and stable manure applied respectively to plots No. 129 and 130. But the most marked result was in the application of these fertilizers to clover and timothy. Ter Hoeven's horn dust applied to plot No. 227, at the rate of 309 pounds per acre—cost $14.40—produced an increase of 2,080 pounds of dry hay over the product of plot No. 228, on which there was no manure, and Miller & Smith's super phosphate of lime applied to plot No. 228, at the same rate, 360 pounds per acre—costs $10—produced an increase of 2,020 pounds of dry hay over the product of No. 228, on which no manure had been applied. The correctness of this result is greatly strengthened by the fact that plots No. 227 and 229 maintain the same relative increase of one ton each over the product of plot No. 130, on which there was also no manure.

Why Ter Hoeven's horn dust, which is undoubtedly a valuable fertilizer, should have produced no beneficial effect upon the corn plot, seems mysterious and inexplicable, and yet it is no more difficult of solution than very many of the results presented by the very intelligent, vigilant and accurate Superintendent of the Eastern farm, who reports having applied to plot No. 62 an application at the rate of 563 pounds of Peruvian guano per acre, at a cost of $25.36 per acre, without any beneficial effect whatever upon the wheat crop it was applied to nourish. That plot not only falls in the produce of wheat below every one of 32 other plots to which fertilizers were applied, but below plot No. 95, to which no fertilizer was applied, and yet Peruvian guano is known and recognized as a good fertilizer, and is, indeed, made the basis of many of our very best commercial manures.

The most reasonable solution of the difficulty seems to point to the condition of the soil at the time of the application of the fertilizer, the state of the weather at and shortly thereafter; but more especially and particularly to the composition of the fertilizer itself in relation to the rapidity with which it imparts its stimulating and enriching influences to the earth gypsum (sulphate of lime) and sulphuric acid, and the fertilizers, of which they form a principal ingredient, may be taken as a sample of those fertilizers which impart all the virtue they possess to the first crop whilst raw bone, especially if not thoroughly pulverized, and Peruvian guano, and the fertilized, of which they form the principal constituents, may be taken as samples of those manures that impart their virtues more slowly yet not less certainly, to the enrichment of the soil. This idea is very powerfully corroborated and sustained in the results of the application of ten several commercial fertilizers applied to grass on the Eastern farm upon plots from No. 131 to 141, by the Superintendent, in the spring of 1868 reported by him in the harvest of 1869. The virtues of the one class of stimulants were not only exhausted, but the land was left in a worse condition, after the first crop was harvested, than if no fertilizers had been applied. In the light thus cast upon our pathway in starting upon the course of experiments, we are irresistibly led to the conclusion that there is no reliable and certain test of the value of any fertilizer, except the use of it, and no other, on the same identical plot, through a series of crops; and for the application of this test, provision has been judiciously made in the establishment of the programme of the series of experiments in which ranges of plots across all the four tiers have been devoted to test the relative merits of fertilizers.

THE MASSACHUSETTS PLOWMAN—says there is a close and intimate connection between the nervous and secretory systems of a cow, and this explains the fact that she will often "hold up her milk," as it is termed. It shows also that every milker should strive to be on good terms with the cow he is about to milk. If he is a perfect stranger to her, he could take time to gain her confidence and goodwill by handling her gently and petting her, or giving her something she is fond of to eat.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

THE GREAT FARMERS' PAPER!

The Paper of the People.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GREAT FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

It is Cheap Because its Circulation is Larger Than That of any Other Newspaper.

NOW IS THE TIME TO FORM CLUBS.

The New-York Weekly Tribune contains all the important Editorials published in the Daily Tribune, except those of merely local interest; also Literary and Scientific Intelligence; Reviews of the most interesting and important New Books; letters from our large corps of Correspondents; latest news received by Telegraph from all parts of the world; a summary of all important intelligence in this city and elsewhere: a Synopsis of the Proceedings of Congress and State Legislature when in session: Foreign News received by every steamer: Exclusive Reports of the Proceedings of the Farmers' Club of the American Institute: Talks about Fruit; Stock, Financial, Cattle, Dry Goods, and General Market Reports.

The Full Reports of the American Institute Farmers' Club, and the various Agricultural Reports, in each number, are richly worth a year's subscription.

HORTICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

To keep pace with the growing interests in practical Horticulture and to comply with frequent appeals from all parts of the country for information of a practical character on the subject, we have engaged the services of a person who is experienced in rural affairs to write in a lucid style a series of articles on the Management of Small Farms, Fruit and Vegetable Culture, and how to make them pay, giving general and specific directions from planting to the ultimate disposal of the crops.

Of late years there has been a lucrative business carried on by unprincipled men, in selling worthless and old plants under new names to the inexperienced. The Tribune will be always ready to guard the farmer against any such imposition from that comes within our knowledge.

VETERINARY DEPARTMENT.

To make The Tribune still more valuable to its agricultural readers, we have engaged Prof. James Law, Veterinary Surgeon in Cornell University, to answer questions concerning diseases of Cattle, Horses, Sheep and other domestic animals, and to prescrib, remedies. Answers and prescriptions will be given only through the columns of the Tribune. We are sure that this new feature in the Tribune will add largely to its readers as all owners of animals are liable to need the information proffered. Inquiries should be made as brief as possible' that the questions, answers, and prescriptions may be published together. In short, we intend that the Tribune shall keep in the advance in all that concerns the Agricultural, Manufacturing, Mining, and other interests of the country, and that for variety and completeness, it shall remain altogether the most valuable, interesting, and instructive Newspaper published in the world.

It has been well observed that a careful reading and study of the Farmers' Club Reports in the Tribune alone will save a farmer hundreds of dollars in his crop. In addition to these reports, we shall continue to print the best things written on the subject of agriculture by American and foreign writers, and shall increase these features from year to year. As it is, no prudent farmer can do without it. As a lesson to his workmen alone, every farmer should place the Weekly Tribune, upon his table ever Saturday evening.

The Tribune is the best and cheapest paper in the country. This is not said in a spirit of boastfulness. It has fallen to New-York to create the gratest newspapers of the country. Here concentrate the commerce, the Manufactures, the mineral resources, the agricultural wealth of the Republic. Here all the news gathers, and the patronage is so large that journalists can afford to print it. This is the strength of the Tribune. We print the cheapest, and best edited weekly newspaper in the country. We have all the advantages around us. We have great Daily and Semi Weekly editions. All the elaborate and intricate machinery of our establishment—perhaps the most making the Weekly Tribune the best and cheapest newspaper in the world. The result is that we have so systematized and expanded our resources that every copy of the Weekly Tribune contains as much matter as a duodecimo volume. Think of it! For two dollars, the subscriber to the Tribune for one year buys as much reading matter as though he filled a shelf of his library with fifty volumes, containing the greatest works in the language. The Tribune cheapness can no further go.

The Weekly Tribune is the paper of the people. Here the eager student may learn the last lessons of science. Here scholar may read reviews of the best books. Here may be found correspondence from all parts of the world, the observations of sincere and gifted men, who serve the Tribune in almost every country.

The Tribune is strong by reason of its enormous circulation and great cheapness. It has long been concealed that the Weekly Tribune has the largest circulation of any newspaper in the country. For years we have printed twice as many papers, perhaps, as all of the other weekly editions of the city dailies combined. This is why we are enabled to do our work, so thoroughly and cheaply. The larger our circulation, the better paper we can make.

What are the practical suggestions? Many. Let every subscriber renew his subscription, and urge his neighbors to do the same. If a man cannot afford to pay two dollars, let him raise a club, by inducing his neighbors to subscribe, and we shall send him a copy gratis for his trouble. No newspaper so large and complete as the Weekly Tribune was ever before offered at so low a price. Even when our currency was at par with gold, no such paper but the Tribune was offered at that price; and the Tribune then cost us far less than it now does. We have solved the problem of making the best and cheapest newspaper in America.

MISCELLANEOUS.

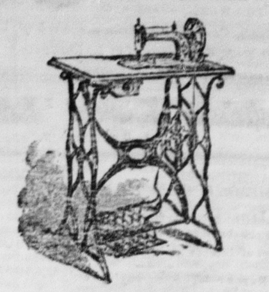
SEWING MACHINE.

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE



Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company, rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a

FAMILY MACHINE,

destined to win much favor in the HOUSEHOLD.

The machine which they now offer is quite light-running, simple, fast, noiseless. Its accessories for

HEMMING, BRAIDING, BINDING,

QUILTING, TUCKING, CORDING

FELLING, GATHERING,

are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." They urge those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it. Machines on hand for sale and exhibition, together with a full and complete assortment of both of the manufacture for the machines, by

SILK, TWIST, LINEN, OR COTTON THREAD
